Curriculum

Courses in the Early Childhood Education program focus primarily on the development of the child from infancy through school age and explore programs and activities designed to promote children's overall growth and well-being. Students learn, both in theory and through direct observation, ways of meeting the emotional, physical, social, and cognitive needs of the young child. Courses in the program are relevant for those seeking training for employment in childcare facilities, as well as for parents and potential parents, recreation leaders, and elementary school teachers.

Major

Students majoring in early childhood education develop a strong theoretical and practical background working with preschool-age children and their families. The program prepares students for immediate employment working as teachers or aides in childcare or other early childhood care-giving environments and provides a foundation of understanding and skills for those interested in careers providing services to children and families. Ample employment opportunities exist and salaries are increasing. Students may also prepare to transfer to four-year schools to pursue advanced degrees in child development with the eventual goal of becoming preschool directors, elementary school teachers, resource specialists, or consultants, or finding employment in related human service fields working with or in behalf of children.

Career Options

With an associate degree or certificate of achievement—

- Associate Teacher in Early Childhood Education
- Master Teacher in Early Childhood Education
- Teacher in Early Childhood Education

With a bachelor's or advanced degree—

- Consultant to Early Childhood Education Programs
- Parent Educator
- Site Supervisor/Director in Early Childhood Education
- Teen Parent Educator

Associate Degree

Associate in Science Degree in Child Development

Emphases:

- Infant/Toddler
- School-Age Child

Students must complete a minimum of 60 units of credit, including the courses in the major ("Major Requirements") and general education requirements (pages 43-49), with an overall GPA of 2.0 or better, and a grade of "A," "B," "C," or "P" in all courses to be counted toward the major. A minimum of 12 units must be completed at Irvine Valley College. See pages 34-35 for further information.

Certificate Programs

Certificate of Achievement in Child Development

Emphases:

- Infant/Toddler
- School-Age Child

Students must complete all courses in the certificate program ("Major Requirements") with a grade of "A," "B," "C," or "P." A minimum of 12 units in the certificate program must be completed at Irvine Valley College. See page 31 for further information.

Transfer Preparation

Courses that fulfill major requirements for an associate degree at Irvine Valley College may not be the same as those required for completing the major at a transfer institution offering a bachelor's degree. Students who plan to transfer to a four-year college or university should schedule an appointment with an IVC counselor to develop a plan of study before beginning their program. It may be helpful to meet with the department faculty at IVC.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT: GENERAL

CWE 168: COOPERATIVE WORK EXPERIENCE: HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

1-4 Units

1-4 hours lecture

Transfers: CSU

Prerequisite: Student must have taken or must be currently taking a course in college-level early childhood education.

Limitation: Students must be concurrently enrolled in 7 units, including CWE. Application must be approved by CWE coordinator.

This course provides students an opportunity for supervised work experience. Students extend their classroom-based occupational learning by working at a job related to their major and to their occupational goal. Student, instructor, and employer will cooperatively develop a minimum of three learning objectives. One unit of credit will be awarded for each 75 hours of paid or 60 hours of volunteer employment for successful completion of learning objectives, and for attendance at scheduled seminar sessions. A maximum of four units may be applied toward major requirements or a certificate. R-I-3

HD 7: DEVELOPMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY: CHILDHOOD AND ADOLESCENCE

3 Units

3 hours lecture

Transfers: CSU, UC

Recommended Preparation: PSYC 1

This course presents a study of human development from conception through adolescence within cultural and family contexts. It examines physical, cognitive and psychosocial development, both typical and atypical. It introduces students to the theories, research, and applications that constitute the field of child development by examining both traditional approaches and recent innovations. Students have the opportunity for observational study and direct classroom experience with children. The course is of particular interest to students preparing for a career working with children. Human Development 7 is also listed as Psychology 7; credit will be given in either area, not both. The course meets Title 22 licensing requirements for child-care providers. NR

HD 15: SOCIALIZATION OF THE CHILD
3 Units3 hours lecture*Transfers: CSU, UCRecommended Preparation: PSYC 1*

This course examines the influence of major socializing agents—family, school, peers, media, and community—on the developing child. The course addresses historical, cultural, and socioeconomic factors that affect a child's socialization, as well as issues confronting children with specialized needs and resources available for interventions. Emphasis is placed on the importance of respectful, reciprocal relationships that support and empower families. This course is of particular interest to students preparing for a career working with children. It also meets Title 22 licensing requirements for childcare providers. Human Development 15 is also listed as Sociology 15; credit will be given in either area, not both. NR

HD 101: OBSERVATION AND ASSESSMENT OF YOUNG CHILDREN3 Units*3 hours lecture*Transfers: CSURecommended Preparation: HD/SOC 15 and PSYC/HD 7*

This course introduces the appropriate use of assessment and observation strategies to document the growth and development of young children. The course focuses on selecting and using information collected as documentation to plan and implement quality programming and meet the individual needs of the child. The course also examines methods of utilizing data about each child to form effective partnerships between families and professionals. The course explores recording strategies including rating scales, portfolios, and use of multiple assessment methods. Meets course requirement for Title 22 Licensing and the California Child Development Permit. NR

HD 104: INFANT AND TODDLER DEVELOPMENT3 Units*3 hours lecture*Transfers: CSU

This course is an overview of the characteristic social, physical and sensorimotor behavior patterns of children from birth to age three in relation to the environment, both in theory and through direct observation. The course is appropriate for teachers in infant and toddler centers, home day-care providers, and parents. Completion of the course partially qualifies students to work in a licensed childcare facility. NR

HD 105: INFANT/TODDLER PROGRAMS
3 Units3 hours lecture*Transfers: CSU

This course explores early care and education programs for infants and toddlers. Topics include program goals and philosophies, curriculum development, safety concerns, routines, physical space provisions, equipment selection, and infant and family needs. The course emphasizes programs that provide quality care for infants. Completion of the course partially qualifies students to work in a licensed childcare facility. NR

HD 110: PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICES OF TEACHING YOUNG CHILDREN3 Units*3 hours lecture*Transfers: CSU

This course introduces the underlying theoretical principles of developmentally appropriate practices as applied to early childhood education programs and environments. The course emphasizes the key role of relationships, constructive adult-child interactions, and teaching strategies in supporting the physical, social, creative, and intellectual development of all children. The course includes a review of the historical roots of early childhood programs and the evolution of professional practices promoting advocacy, ethics, and professional identity, as well as current trends in the field. Students are introduced to different types of early childhood programs, professional opportunities and qualifications, and laws and regulations governing programs. NR

HD 115: INTRODUCTION TO CURRICULUM3 Units*3 hours lectureRecommended Preparation: HD/SOC 15 and PSYC/HD 7*

This course provides an overview of planning and implementing developmentally appropriate curriculum and play-based environments for young children. The course examines the teacher's role in supporting development and learning, and fostering respect for children of diverse economic backgrounds, cultures, languages, and abilities. Content areas include language and literacy, social and emotional learning, sensory learning, art, creativity, math, science and physical development. Students observe and assess effective strategies for developing curriculum and adapting environments. Meets the course requirement for Title 22 Licensing and the California Child Development Permit. NR

HD 120: CHILD GUIDANCE AND DISCIPLINE3 Units*3 hours lecture*Transfers: CSU

This course introduces the theories, methods, and application of positive child guidance, discipline, and classroom management. The course is designed for educators, recreation leaders, parents, and others who are learning to interact and communicate with children in group settings. The course emphasizes the process of developing human potential by consciously applying principles of guidance based on child development theory and research. Students learn theoretical concepts of guidance and specific techniques to apply with children in changing their behavior. Completion of the course partially qualifies students to work in a licensed childcare facility. NR

HD 130: TEACHING IN A DIVERSE SOCIETY3 Units*3 hours lectureRecommended Preparation: HD/SOC 15 and PSYC/HD 7*

This course offers a critical examination of societal and personal attitudes, beliefs, values, assumptions, and biases about culture, race, language, identity, family structure, ability, socioeconomic status, and diverse groups affected by systemic oppression. The course is designed to help students recognize and confront barriers that interfere with their ability to work effectively with diverse populations of children and families, and to enhance teachers' skills for educating children in a pluralistic society. Meets the course requirement for Title 22 Licensing and the California Child Development Permit. NR

HD 131: CREATIVE DEVELOPMENT IN YOUNG CHILDREN3 Units*3 hours lecture*Transfers: CSU

This course examines creativity as a critical function in the holistic development of young children. The course focuses on the importance of art, music, movement, imagery, literacy activities, and dramatic play in furthering children's overall development. Students will engage in creative activities, make connections between their experiences and those of children, and apply what they have learned in real-life settings with young children. Completion of the course partially qualifies students to work in a licensed childcare facility. NR
