Advancing Success for Today and Tomorrow

FOR OVER 27 YEARS IRVINE VALLEY COLLEGE has been advancing success for our students and our community. Today, over 15,000 students attend IVC each year, many transferring to a four-year college, many moving into successful careers, and many experiencing the “community” in community colleges—enriching their lives through IVC’s distinguished arts, sports, Emeritus and other community programs.

IVC offers an exceptional value for the highest quality education. IVC is ranked #1 in Orange County and #3 among all California community colleges for its transfer rates. Students transfer successfully not only to UC and CSU campuses but also to prestigious universities across the nation—USC, Stanford, Caltech, Chapman, Columbia, Johns Hopkins, Cornell, and Brown, to name just a few. IVC transfers have historically outperformed students who started their education at four-year universities.

As we look to the future, we welcome entrepreneurial community partners to bring together the resources to make a difference in the quality of higher education at Irvine Valley College. Whether your interest is in promoting programs such as STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) to advance economic growth, or in assisting students who are just entering college, mid-life learners returning to college to retrain in a new skill or profession, or veterans recently back from Iraq and Afghanistan, we welcome your support and investment. Please join us in advancing student success at Irvine Valley College.

Beccie Dawson IVC changed my life

"As a single mom with limited resources and a full-time job when I enrolled, Irvine Valley College proved to be a significant turning point in my life. IVC provided me with the discipline, organization and time management skills—and the resources such as tutoring in math and writing—to pursue my associate degree in accounting. I had an excellent support system of counselors and faculty who encouraged me and gave me the confidence to pursue an advanced degree."

—Beccie Dawson, current Chief People Officer at THINK Together and long-time member of the IVC Foundation Board of Governors, was named IVC Alumna of the Year in 2008.

A Premier California Community College

we are IVC Rocio Ambrocio

After earning a BA in mathematics with an emphasis in education, Rocio wants to apply to graduate school, where she hopes to earn a PhD. "My long-term goal is to make an impact on my future students because I believe that everyone can learn the beauty of math. It just takes hard work." She also wants to continue getting involved with her community by promoting the importance of education. "IVC has amazing professors and staff who are always willing to help students succeed."

Enrique Campo we are IVC

Enrique Campo is majoring in psychology and plans to transfer to UC Irvine. He wants to earn a bachelor's degree in sociology and join the UCI ROTC program to become an officer in the military. He says, "The best of IVC is the positive atmosphere, helpful faculty and staff, and a lot of professors who are willing to help. I am the current Veterans Club Inter-Club Council representative and a member of XTE, the IVC Chapter of the American Criminal Justice Association—Lambda Alpha Epsilon (ACJA-LAE)."

Value to the Community

IRVINE VALLEY COLLEGE HAS A DRAMATIC, positive impact on the local economy in many ways. Each year students leave IVC and either go on to seek an advanced degree at a four-year college or university, or rejoin the workforce, many here in Orange County. Their added skills translate to higher earnings and a more robust Orange County economy. IVC brings added value to the community as a whole.

A recent study revealed that achieving an associate degree from Irvine Valley College will increase a student's earnings to over $40,000 per year, or 35.4% more than the average high school graduate. we are IVC Alumnus Sean Joyce

While a student at Irvine Valley College, Sean Joyce never imagined that someday he would be working as city manager of Irvine, one of Orange County's most dynamic and successful "new" cities. The sixth of seven children, Sean credits IVC for opening up his world to unlimited possibilities. His first college course, Introduction to Western Civilization, made him passionate about learning, while capturing his imagination and inspiring him to succeed. After his successful start at IVC, Sean went on to achieve a Bachelor of Arts in political science and a Master of Public Administration from Cal State Fullerton. In 2007, Sean was honored as IVC's Alumnus of the Year.

Our Campus:

Advancing Student Success

The academic and career achievements of IVC students are inspired by the exemplary accomplishments of IVC's faculty and staff. Professor Roopa Mathur we are IVC

Beginning her journey in the world of computers in 1986 as an avionics system engineer for Boeing, IVC Professor Roopa Mathur had no idea then how important computers would eventually become in her life. Now a full-time faculty member at Irvine Valley College, she constantly seeks to engage her students in all areas of computer information management, from web development and animation, to database and multiple PC applications. A lover of brainteasers, her motto in life is "Never Stop Learning," a philosophy she tries to live by, and one she daily tries to impart to her students.

Looking Ahead, Planning for the Future

IVC HAS EXPERIENCED OVER 27 YEARS OF

steady growth and development. Thanks to our passionate students, strong community support and dedicated faculty and staff, we continue to see exceptional results with our students in spite of national economic uncertainty and an unprecedented fiscal crisis at the state level.

Over the next couple of decades, our college looks forward to continuing to provide students with the finest education possible. Looking ahead, the future at IVC is filled with a busy schedule of arts, athletics, increased outreach to the community and new and innovative academic and career programs to meet the changing needs of a global economy.

As our academic and career programs grow, we will also need to expand our campus, repurposing some buildings, constructing new classrooms and labs, adding parking structures, more resource centers, and a new entrance, among other projects. We recently opened a beautifully landscaped outdoor venue, and plans are in the works to create community gardens, to dedicate a wildlife conservation area, and to support more sustainable and drought-resistant landscaping. Our innovative public art program, the biannual outdoor sculpture invitational (BOSI), also continues to go strong.

we are IVC Veterans

IVC is very proud that we have recently been officially recognized as a Military Friendly School. With over 3,000 military veterans currently enrolled, IVC received this distinction for being among the elite schools in the nation to offer active service members, veterans and military spouses the best education, best value and most welcoming atmosphere among 7,000 academic choices. IVC has also recently inaugurated a veterans support group, the Veterans Angels, whose donations will help fund critical support services that are presently lacking in the veterans' educational aid packets.

The IVC Foundation

THE IVC FOUNDATION BOARD OF GOVERNORS,

its benefactors and supporters believe that advancing education, advancing our community and advancing the economic growth of our region are among the greatest investments we can make in our community. Without the support of the IVC Foundation and its donors, the quality of the educational experience that IVC provides to thousands of students each year would be at risk. Private fundraising, gifts and bequests are increasingly significant factors that help the college deliver the first-rate education that is the underlying foundation of our students' success.

The Foundation is dedicated to ensuring that IVC has the resources it needs to provide a high-quality, affordable and accessible college education to the residents of the city of Irvine and its neighboring communities.

Join us today and help us advance to a brighter, more prosperous future for our region and our state. The Irvine Valley College Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) charitable organization (Tax ID#77-0239916).

The image shows a large, bright yellow sculpture of a telescope, positioned diagonally across a green lawn. The telescope's barrel is long and tapers slightly, with a circular lens at the front. The base is a thick, curved, yellow structure. In the background, there is a modern building with large windows and a flat roof, partially obscured by lush green trees. A paved walkway runs alongside the lawn. The sky is clear and blue.

- ◆ A $10,000 anonymous gift was received for student scholarships and for projects that enhance teaching and learning. Six “Learning Excellence” scholarships were awarded and a competition designed and carried out by writing, math, and physics professors, in conjunction with the Foundation, will award “Teaching Excellence” projects in the fall of 2012.
- ◆ The 25th Anniversary Astounding Inventions, sponsored by Greenberg Traurig, LLP in January 2012, saw a record attendance of over 2,600 people with 465 inventions created by K-8 Tustin Unified and Irvine Public School Districts on display in IVC’s Hart Gymnasium. Judges included executives, entrepreneurs, scientists and engineers from local corporations, such as Raytheon, Edwards Lifesciences, Boeing, SRS Labs and the Capital Group. The event contributed over $23,000 in revenue to the Foundation.

Donor Guide to Giving

provides several ways for you to support our educational programs and our students.

◆ General College Support: Unrestricted gifts provide the greatest benefit to the college by allowing the IVC Foundation to address the greatest needs that the college has identified for funding. These gifts allow the most general support of all campus projects and student scholarships and enable the Foundation to grow the capability to generate more revenue to support our students and faculty.

◆ Student Support: Scholarships can be awarded based on academic merit and/or financial need. Scholarship awards assist IVC students with fees, books, and the general cost of attending IVC. Contact the IVC Foundation at 949/451-5472 to discuss specific scholarship criteria that you are interested in funding. For more information on scholarships, see www.ivcscholarships.org.

It is crucial that our equipment and facilities, especially in the highly competitive, rapidly changing world of science, technology, engineering and math (STEM), provide state-of-the-art learning experiences for IVC students.

◆ PRO IVC: The “Promote IVC” program provides faculty and staff a means to generate funds to support their specific programs and entities. The PRO IVC campaign kicks off each fall and culminates on or about April 1 each year.

◆ President’s Leaders Circle: The President’s Circle is an elite group of donors who have access and input to the college through IVC President Glenn Roquemore, PhD.
