If you do see a suspicious person or action, call the police immediately and answer all questions asked. Provide the Dispatch with as much identifying description of the suspicious person as you can, such as:

SEX	RACE
AGE	HAIR
HEIGHT	WEIGHT
CLOTHING

Theft prevention is not solely limited to protection of one's own personal property. Theft prevention measures should also be taken to prevent the loss of college property and equipment. While such measures are typically a department administrator's responsibility, it is also that of everyone in the office. Here are some ways in which you and your department can assist in reducing theft of personal and college property:

- Lock the door to your office and take your keys with you when you leave.
- Have all of the office equipment locked down with an approved lock-down device for expensive equipment.
- Ensure that all college property has a District sticker on the bottom or back: "Property of SOCCCD", and record the serial numbers.
- Keep an inventory of all office and laboratory equipment and keep the inventory updated.
- Maintain strict key control to all college buildings and offices.
- Do not prop open doors.

You cannot afford a theft because of the:

- Costs to replace stolen items.
- Loss of personal or valuable data/info.
- Costs of the time consumed in filing police and insurance forms, and replacing the property/equipment.

Members of the college community are vulnerable to the same crime problems encountered by residents of any major metropolitan area. The primary purpose of the Campus Police is to protect the campus community from criminal activities. The patrolling of the campus and surrounding areas by the Campus Police is a major factor in keeping crime to a minimum, but the opportunity for crime continues to exist.

You can assist us in reducing crime on campus by utilizing preventive measures to reduce the opportunity for criminal acts. You are urged both to report crimes and to practice logical prevention techniques to reduce them. We all share in the responsibility for making Irvine Valley College as safe a place as possible.

CRIME PREVENTION

Crime prevention has been defined as the anticipation, the recognition and the appraisal of a crime risk and the initiation of some action to remove or reduce it.

THEFT AND BURGLARY PREVENTION

Irvine Valley College Police Department (949) 451-5200

Will Glen Chief of Police

Theft is a serious problem everywhere and the IVC is no exception. Because of the diversity on our campus, it has become a favorable place for criminals. The best ally in crime prevention is to provide our community with the proper education, awareness, and crime prevention techniques. This pamphlet is designed to instruct you on measures that can be used to increase the security of college and personal property.

Thieves work in office buildings, libraries, bookstores, locker rooms, and other places where people gather. Thefts of backpacks, purses, laptop computers, cell phones, and other electronic gadgets are the most prevalent crime on campus.

By working with the police and following a few common sense recommendations, you can significantly reduce the chances of a thief stealing college or personal property.

METHOD OF OPERATION OF A THIEF

As an example, a thief will usually stand in the doorway of an office that is unoccupied or unlocked, or sit at a location where he/she can observe routine habits in an area to get a picture of what usually happens there.

When the thief enters the room, he/she will look for a purse or any unattended valuable property in the more obvious places such as:

- On the floor under the desk,
- In the typewriter well of the desk,
- In desk drawers or filing cabinets,
- In an unlocked gym locker, or
- On library table or in cubicles.

At home

- In dresser drawer or closets, or
- Under the bed.

If the thief does not locate any property in an office within 30 to 60 seconds, he/she will usually leave the room or area. Thus, many thefts occur immediately after the property is left unattended.

REMEMBER! One of the best ways to prevent yourself from becoming a theft victim is to lock your desk, office, or home when you leave, and to take your keys with you -- even if you leave for only a few minutes. Most thieves do not stay in a room longer than 60 seconds.

In various campus areas, thieves will place themselves in a position of observation or wander with the intent of looking for unattended property. Theft prevention is simple: Do not leave your property unattended, and do not become distracted and inattentive to the point where property can literally be taken from under your nose. Thieves have often preyed upon students who have fallen asleep in the library or left in an unlocked gym locker.

Thieves looking for valuables to steal will often search offices or common areas, or where there is little to no pedestrian traffic. He/she will check up and down the hallway to see if there are opened or unlocked office doors.

Thieves usually do not operate in a building where most of the doors are closed or rooms occupied.

If you work in an office on campus, you can reduce the opportunities of becoming a theft victim by taking the following precautions:

- When you are not using your desk, lock it and take your keys with you.
- If you leave your office, always lock your door, even if you are only going to be gone for just a few minutes.
- Have all coworkers join together to watch each other's property and offices.

If you encounter a suspicious person in your building, ask if you can help them. If the person has legitimate business, he or she will gladly show you identification if asked for.

- A business card is not proper identification - a thief can easily make fake business cards.
- If a person claims to be looking for someone in the building, make sure that the unknown individual is expected.

If the individual refuses to cooperate, call the police immediately to have the person checked out. The police department prefers to investigate numerous reports than to have an avoidable theft occur.

Remember:

See Something... Say Something!
